MIXTURA PARA TERCIANAS
DE JAYNE,
A CERTAIN AND EFFECTUAL REMEDY
For Fever and Ague, Intermittent and Remittent Fevers, &c.

This class of diseases, so common in all part of the world, and specially prevalent in malarious districts and vicinage of water courses, are almost invariably accompanied by more or less derangement of the liver, and frequently by a defective action of the digestive organs.

The mere breaking of the Chill is but a step towards completing a radical cure. The various organs of the body, especially the stomach and liver, must be brought to a healthy and vigorous condition before a permanent cure can be established, and this fact has been specially kept in view by Dr. Jayne in his treatment of these complaints. The use of Jayne's Ague Mixture in conjunction with the Sanative Pills, as prescribed in the directions which accompany each bottle, will not only

Break up the Chills,

But restore the system more particularly the liver and stomach, to a sound condition, and so prevent a relapse of Fever and Ague, by thoroughly

Eradicating the Dissase,

And the best evidence of this is the invariable success which has always followed the administration of these remedies, as attested by the certificates published annually in Dr. Jayne's Almanac, and the wide-spread popularity of the Ague Mixture in those districts of the United States, where the diseases, for which it is adapted, most prevail.

All Dr. D. Jayne's Family Medicines are prepared only at 242 Chestnut-street, Philadelphia, and are sold by Druggists everywhere.

THE TRUE
THEORY OF PURGATION,
Applied to the Liver, Kidneys, Skin, Stomach, and Bowels.

DR. RADWAY'S
Perfect
PURGATIVE PILLS,
Perfectly tasteless—Elegantly Coated.

'Materia Medica' contains, in its repertoire, many purgative and cathartic agents that, for ordinary purposes, opens the bowels, and through what is called a 'peristaltic' movement, purges from the alimentary canal the feces, and this is all. Such agents, for the purpose of cure, or removal of any settled cure, are perfectly useless.

Dr. Radway has completed one of the most essential discoveries in medical chemistry—in the combination of vegetable substances, for the purpose of a Purgative, Aperant, Counter-Irritant, Alterative Pill, that can be taken or administered with the absolute certainty of securing thorough expulsion of all decayed and decomposing element of the human body, and also safe to take in the most malignant of Eruptive Fevers. In cases where the mucuous membranes of the internal viscera are suffering from Ulceration, Inflammation, or from

LIVER
Gastric, Biliary, Pancreatic Complaints,
Dr. RADWAY'S PILLS
Supply the only Vegetable substitute for CALOMEL OR MERCURY.

In Radway's Pills you have one medicine that will secure quicker, more thorough and better results than will be gived in from three or more different prescriptions of the medical practitioner. As a proof of this—You are belied with a bilious attack! Doctor prescribes blue pills or calomel. Next, come drastic aloctic pill or powders, to work off the effects of the blue pills this prostrates you, and a tonic is next given, to a gentle aperiant, whereas one dose of Radway's Pills will do all the work that the three or more prescriptions are given for, without running any risk from mecurialising or salivating the system.

Radway's Pills.

In Radway's Pills the true principle of purgation is secured—not alone to the office of dismissing the feces and excrements from the bowels, but these rumors that are checked or stopped in their passage through the Skin, Kidneys, Lungs, and all excreting and secreting functions; for if these excrementatious secretions belonging to the skin, liver, lungs, kidneys, are interrupted in their escape, they become products of decay and decomposition, and must be purged from the living body through their proper channels; hence the purgative qualities of Radway's Pills extend to the secretions of the Skin, Kidneys, Diver, &c.; whereas not one of the advertised Pills claim to act beyond the bowels.

How to take Radway's Pills.
Their daily use.

In doses of one or two pills, by all persons of a full habit of body, subject to giddiness, rush of blood to the head, palpitation of the heart, and all those subject to fits, will not only keep the blood from becoming congested or clogged up in the blood vessels, but will equalise its circulation, and prevent sudden attacks of apoplexy, disease of the heart, congestion. Persons who will take one of these Pills every day will not suffer from Head-aches, Dizziness, Hysterics, Fainting Spells, Pains around the Heart, and a hundred other disagreeable symptoms.

DYSPEPSIA,

One of Radway's Pills, two or three hours before dinner, taken daily, will keep the system free from Dyspepsia, Constipation, Costiveness, &c. &c.

Bear in Mind,

Radway's Pills are the only purgative that will secure an alterative, diuretic, sudorific, aperiant, and tonic influence.

They are the only vegetable substitutes for Calomel or Mercury.

They promote the secretion of bile, and withdraw it from the circulation.

They assist, through their nutritous properties, the chyme and chyle, and gastric juices in the process of digestion.

They are elegantly coated with Gum, perfectly tasteless, and free from smell.

NECESSARY PRECAUTIONS.

When yellow fever broke out last January in the parish of San Telmo, had proper measures been adopted, the disease might have been confined to that parish. This is the fixed opinion of all our medical men. We well recollect how street quarantine and patrols were talked of; how the people spoke, and the papers published about the urgent necessity of at once shutting up the streets thereabout, and for a time those living in other parts of the city were under the impression that this street quarantine did really exist; but soon they were undeceived, some sick persons were removed from Calle Defensa to Calle Paraguay, others to Calle Parana nearly all died, the fever spread, and we all know the rest.

On Sunday last, according to the best and most reliable authority, a case of yellow fever occurred in Calle Artes; the physician who attended the case certified that it was yellow fever, and yesterday morning the principal doctors of this city held a 'cadaveric autopsy'. Their report is being drawn up, and we suppose will be given to the public.

Without the least wish to alarm our readers or the general public, we feel bound to call attention to the matter, in the hope that something may be done. Five months have now nearly elapsed since the fever abated, and yet to this hour what steps have been adopted? The winter is over, we can look for very little more cold weather, the last month has proved unusually dry, dry weather in this country means sickness, and wet weather is considered by all the old natives as healthy. With the seeds of the fatal disease still in our midst, and with an unusually dry season upon us, still the authorities do nothing. Verily the case of yellow fever in Calle Artes, on last Sunday, seems providential; it will wake us up to a sense of the awful dangers that threaten. Already, whilst we write, the alarm in Calles Artes, Tucuman, and Temple, is such that in another week there will be hardly a family left in the square in question, for nearly all are on the move.

It would seem that the most effective measure that could be adopted would be to blockade every square in town where a fever case occurs. The remedy is easy at the outset, but impossible if the disease once scatters. So far only one case of fever has occurred in this city since last June, and if the authorities now take energetic measures much good may be done. Wherever a case of fever occurs, the block should be at once closed, and the inhabitants compelled to move. This measure, indeed, is a very severe one, but none can question its necessity. The authorities must, of course, take charge of the property left in whatever square may be closed, and as it is probable that nearly all the families compelled to move will go to the suburbs, the railways should at once reduce their fares, and the Government take charge of all the moving waggons in the city, in order to help the population to move out at a reasonable cost.

But are the authorities of Buenos Ayres equal to such energetic steps? We think not. With the experience of the epidemic, we all know what we have to expect from the authorities. Even to this very day, to the disgrace of the Government, the Board of Health, and the police, there are houses still closed that have never been once opened since the death of the owner during the epidemic! Can anything be more monstrous? And yet we are told that the fault lies with the courts, escribanos, and judges. To our view the fault lies with the people There is really no public in B. Ayres. If such a state of things existed in any other city, the public would take the law into its own hands, break open the doors, and set fire to the buildings. The police say that they are not to blame. The Government people say that until the courts give the order they can do nothing. Meanwhile valuable time passes; summer is coming, and are we to be surprised if fever again appears? The real wonder would be, if, in presence of such scandalous neglect, fever did not reappear.

The case of yellow fever in Calle Artes has struck the whole city with alarm. Yesterday it was rumored that in the parish of Monserrat another case had occurred. Let us all look the danger in the face, and demand of the Government the most energetic measures. Not even a decent Lazaretto has during the winter been prepared by the Government. The fever cases in this month are in a measure providential. Let there be no falsehood and concealment. Let the papers fearlessly publish the truth, and some good may come of it.

A WORD TO SHEEP-FARMERS.

In view of the approaching shearing season, the following considerations are not amiss, the prospect now being fair for a superior growth of staple:

1st. It is very important for the good appearance of the fleeces to keep sheep clear of all cascarias for a month or so previous to shearing. Then as Americans can take largely of our wool, if in superior condition as to cleanliness it is absolutely necessary for their trade that the barrigos be put apart, and also that the fleeces be skirted quite to the extent of 15 per cent., including bellies, especially if carretilla or cascarias exist in the skirts, keeping the skirting and bellies apart from the body wool, but including them as one lot in sale at a round price.

This is very desirable where the growth is a good one; if it be a dead fleece, or inferior growth of staple, no extraordinary pains have to be taken with the fleeces, as Americans care nothing for such wool, and it is not adapted to their trade at any price. As intimated, the Americans may be expected in our market for an important amount of wool during the coming season, but in consequence of the excessive specific duty they can only take the body wool, otherwise disposing of the bellies and skirtings. Moreover, in skirting thoroughly the production improves for the European trade, as it is certainly better for the purchaser, when if European, to see distinctly the two classes, as so conditioned, of which our clip consists. So by this little care at the right time, the sheep-farmer materially adds to the competition for the wool, by bringing into the market the additional American customers.

The attempt has to a slight extent been made, for both American and European markets, to skirt the wool here after purchase in our market—but with only partial success—for it is a work that can only be well done in the galpons at shearing when the fleece is open and whole, then properly spread out the skirts sorted off, and the body of the fleece well shaken.

We repeat again not to fail in skirting the fleeces; heavily ten per cent at least on pretty clean lots, but in average conditions of lots quite fifteen per cent. The wool will nevertheless be sold as one lot at one price. The grower may depend upon its resulting in brisk competition for wool so treated, and fair compensation for pains taken.

As to prices, the fact need not be doubted that very liberal figures will rule throughout the entire season; though with the large crop coming in, say 175,000 bales or thereabout for this province alone, and also lower prices which are looked for at the November sales of Colonial wools in London, it need not surprise the farmers if, as the season here wears on, a falling off should take place, from the very high prices which are now paid for the remains of old wool coming in to the market, but growers may count upon good pay for their production.

A decline upon values may be reckoned upon from the additional cause that the French are becoming pretty well stocked up, and the Americans already supplied to a good extent towards balancing the deficit in their own domestic clip, which has been caused by their decreasing production the past two years. Hence a slighter demand may be expected for, say the first 30 or 40 days, when the season begins. Sheepfarmers may therefore depend upon first prices as the best, and a continued good demand throughout the season for good conditioned fully skirted wools.

HECTOR VARELA IN CHILE.

Our distinguished fellow journalist, Sr. Varela, sends us the following interesting letter about his West Coast experiences:—

Valparaiso Aug. 25th.

Three days ago I arrived here per Cordillera. We had awful weather both entering and leaving the Straits of Magellan, and were on the point of perishing; the captain said we owed our safety to the splendid condition of the vessel, but I think as much is due to the steady coolness of the commander and admirable discipline of all on board. It is only, therefore, an act of justice for me to avail myself of your columns to make this honorable mention of Capt. W.H. Thomas, and his chief officer T.B. Haddock, formerly commanding one of the Liverpool and River Plate steamers.

The reception I have met with here is extremely flattering, and the Mercurio (the oldest paper in Chile) has the subjoined notice. Among these kind friends I shall linger a month or so, and then go overland from Santiago to Peru.

DISTINGUISHED GUEST.

The Cordillera brought us yesterday the brilliant Argentine journalist Hector F. Varela, who is en route for Madrid to found a paper there in conjunction with Castelar. We regret that his stay will be too brief to allow him to study our manners and customs. During 18 years he has been the champion of liberal institutions, and his zealous defence of the Spanish Republics at the Congress of Geneva brought him much glory. No wonder that we welcome so talented a colleague on his first visit to the West Coast. We can point with pride to the progress we have made of late years, and shew much that redounds to the credit of Chile. He has always professed the most friendly sentiments towards this country, and will doubtless have occasion to fill his note-book with remarks on our advanced condition and free institutions.

When Sarmiento crossed the Andes to escape from the tyranny of Rosas, he said "I have set foot in a country "where material happiness is at the "highest, but where imagination and "enthusiasm are wanting, to diffuse its "good effects." Since then the times have changed, and now we have abundance of imagination and patriotic enthusiasm. Beneath modern habits of improvement it is true we still preserve some features of our primitive character, but Mr. Varela will agree with us that these lend a charm to the picture. Our arts, literature, and customs are more of a material than a poetic tendency, but still tending always to march steadily forward.

Meantime we shall leave Mr. Varela to find out our salient characteristics, and merely wish him every success with the Americano, which is to defend in Europe the interests of Latin America and make us better known abroad. It is the duty of the Chilian Government and of every Republic on the continent to aid in such an enterprise and shew Europeans what South America is worth. Mr. Varela has distinguished himself at the Peace Congress of Geneva, and more recently in the awful plague of Buenos Ayres, the most dreadful on record. We gladly salute him on this occasion, to shew that the snow-capped Andes far from being a barrier between the Sister-republics are a bond of union, amity and mutual good-will—Mercurio.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

September 17.

Let us salute the great Fourth of July of our neighbors across the Andes. Chile is the country in South America where the nation really feels a pride in celebrating the anniversary day of their Independence. They do more than the Americans, for they keep it up for three days—the 17th, 18th, and 19th. The first day is devoted to civic rejoicings, the second to military displays, and the third belongs entirely to the 'plebs,' who dance and sing and drink enough on that day to last them until the end of the year.

I happened in my wanderings to find myself, a couple of years ago, in Chile, and spent the 17th and 18th in Valparaiso, and the 19th in Santiago. I do not think that the enthusiasm of all classes could be equalled in the U. States. Every house, large or small, of foreigners as well as natives, was decorated with flags. The streets presented a most dazzling appearance. All classes of society turn out in their holiday attire; and as the lower order of Chilian women are as fond of colors as their Indian progenitors, the streets and the fields presented the appearance of a moving forest of flowers. Every one is very orderly the first two days, for the police are strict; but the third day, beware how you go go out alone to the outskirts of the towns. That day belongs to the 'guazos,' their wives and sweethearts; and, although it is an interesting sight, the number less 'chinganas' where the 'sambucuaca' is danced all night long, still the stranger had better procure a policeman or a well known person to accompany him in his rounds; for although the natives are naturally rather kindly disposed, intoxication is so universal that quarrels and crimes are frequent that night.

The most brilliant day is when the military make their display. The regular troops are the best dressed and best disciplined troops in South America, while at the same time the Nat. Guards have as much 'esprit du corps' as the regulars, and are almost as well disciplined. Little Chile is a very powerful and respectable nation, and although somewhat too clerical, sets an example to all the other South American states, not excepting the Argentine Republic. There, at least, crime is punished, while here it is rather rewarded.

The 'seca' in this province is prolonging itself most fatally. The results to the estancieros are already ruinous. Sheep and cattle are dying off by thousands; there is not a drop of water in the 'lagunas,' and cattle have to be watered from wells. People say this will be the most fatal season for cattle breeders that has been known for many years. On the other hand, there is not much fear expressed for the agricultural interests; the wheat crops can stand two or three weeks yet of dry weather, and we can hardly believe the drought will continue so long. The probability is, we shall have a wet summer, and a favourable one for the summer crops. Let us hope so, for if both the great industrial interests fail us this year, not even Minister Sarsfield can help us.

The islands in front of the town, usually so bright and green at this season of the year, are actually brown and burnt up. On the other hand, the peach trees are all in brilliant foliage and bloom. But that is all. No other tree as yet shows any signs of life.

The price of beef is something unprecedented; from the usual price of two dollars per arroba it has gone up to three and a half. The lower orders find it cheaper to eat bread instead of meat. In small quantities the price of beef and mutton is as high as in London.

The Villa Maria folks have been burning a large amount of 'cohetes' in celebration of the sanction of the capital-in-the-desert law. As you say however, 'there is many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip.'

Have you required at Standard Hall, by the by, any large amount of sal-volatile? It will be a fearful bore for you to transport all the material of the Standard Office to Villa Maria, for I suppose you do not think of remaining in Buenos Ayres now that it is threatened to become a petty provincial town. I must run up the line and write you a topographical description of the new Washington. I would advise you at once to secure a good lot of land, but as yet the site of the town is not chosen. The competition is, however, limited to the rival claims of Villa Nueva, on the south side of the river, and Villa Maria, on the northern side, where the station of the railway is situated. The best sites, however, will be found some two or three miles to the west or east of the station.

The Rio Cuarto line is progressing rapidly. A locomotive has already crossed over the temporary bridge of the Tercero, and Mr. Cooper, the manager of the Central, is put to his stumps to send up the immense amount of material arriving for the sister railway. Three vessels are now unloading at the railway wharves.

The arrangements to be made by the Central Argentine Railway for the accommodation of passengers during the Cordoba Exhibition are very good. You can leave Buenos Ayres in the afternoon and reach Cordoba at half-past seven in the evening of the following day.

A special train for passengers will leave Rosario at half-past seven in the morning, an hour and a half after the ordinary train. It will catch up to the latter at Frayle Muerto, where the passengers of both trains will breakfast; then take the lead and reach Cordoba an hour and a half ahead, or at half-past seven. The special will commence running on the 11th of October next.

I understand there are to be magnificent fireworks at the opening of the Exhibition.

There is a great outcry in this Province against the rascality of lawyers, judges, and public notaries. The latter are, I believe, just as ripe for the hangman's rope as the worst criminal amongst the 'Gauchos malos.' It is something wonderful how this scandalous institution of irresponsable notaries has taken such root in the Latin races. It is like authorising by Act of Parliament Ali Baba's band of forty thieves; it is worse, for we can defend ourselves to a certain extent against men who are more or less under the surveillance of the law. But what can we do against a rapacious set of cormorants, who fleece you, swindle you, and ruin you with impunity because the law itself has placed the power in their hands to do so. The people of Mississippi, Missouri, and Illinois have lately risen 'en masse' and lynched a number of criminals, the worst of whom were not so hurtful to society as the majority of the 'escribanos' and 'procuradores' in this country. In olden times the notary public in France was the prototype of integrity; but I am afraid that in all Spanish countries he has often become the prototype of a rogue.

PARIS LETTER.

August 14.

It must be no doubt owing to the burning sun, which renders life here next to insupportable, that accounts for much of the unmeasured language of the journals, and not a little of the painful action of some public men. The sun softens the asphalte, dries up the fountains, favors apoplexy, and causes many dogs that have led an honest life to become mad. As if the weather is not sufficiently prostrating, some of the newly-elected deputies, who have hardly settled down in their seats, talk of getting up a cry to dissolve the assembly. Such an agitation would be next to lunacy, and would look like a pleasantry at the expense of universal suffrage. The electors want rest and calm, and expect something more from the man of their choice than taking a return ticket to Versailles. A dissolution, instead of getting rid of the royalist members, might rather add to their number. Equally reprehensible is another proposition, also from the 'left.' In presence of the fact that the present 'salle' of the assembly is too small to accommodate all the representatives, and that the most eminent doctor in Paris, specially invited to report on its sanitary condition, declared he was afraid to sit out a 'séance' which by chance turned out to be extremely stormy besides, a member proposes that any deputy who does not present himself within 15 days after election be declared disqualified. This motion is aimed at the Orleanist princes D'Aumale and Joinville, whom every sage man has admired for temporarily withdrawing from the assembly. The more prominently the Orleanists are brought forward, the more the country may sympathize with their life of prudence and good faith.

The assembly is a veritable hot house—laws are made and repealed with the rapidity of tropical vegetation. The committees of the house are also not idle. One has rejected the protection budget, and instead of imposing tariffs on raw materials, according drawbacks when manufactured, the money will be raised by simply taxing home or foreign fabrics, by affixing thereto stamps or marks—in fact a sort of postage stamp system to clothing materials and upholstery articles. This is called the 'American plan.' Render, however, to Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's. Richelieu, in 1626, being in want of money to lay siege to La Rochelle, imposed a tax of 10 sous on all iron, no matter where produced, per hundred pounds, attaching a 'mark' to the metal. The tax expired with the revolution. France is in a majority on the question of free commerce, and M. Thiers, who prefers the opinions of the country to his personal inclinations, will bow to the verdict. France will be forced into the luxury of an income tax—it is only the first step which is difficult.

The royalist journals are in a permanent state of ebullition. It is curious, living as we do under a republic, to witness writers alluding to Comte de Chambord, as if he was actually reigning as Henry V. They claim that France can only be saved by a miracle, and that miracle is a Bourbon restoration. But the royalists have no chance; they have no chiefs since the deaths of Berryer and Montalembert; they defend 'the altar and the throne,' by fighting amongst themselves, and the Count himself has frightened away many followers, by the promise of introducing religion into the laws. It is into hearts, even religious people desire to see the reformation carried. This party is to raise the Italian question, by catechising the ministry; if it means to 'set his Holiness at liberty, and restore his stolen possessions." France intends to do nothing of the kind—accepts accomplished facts. She is more interested in founding a national army, and paying off the German embargo. Paris news-rooms are so far interested in the Roman question as to subscribe for copies of such journals as the Vatican denounced would be a terrible ado to read.

Each deputy receives 750 francs a month, and, it is not too much to say, it is well earned at present. The railway between Versailles and Paris must receive a good deal of this money, as the representatives live in the city, but will not vote the raising of the siege. They cannot tear themselves away from the attractions of the capital, which has a loved arm-chair for them in so many corners. Versailles is dull, old, and dirty; people vegetate there. The debates receive but little attention from the metropolitan press, and, be it the result of the want of interest or of enterprise, not an evening journal—the majority appear as such—ever gives a telegraphic summary of the day's proceedings in the people's parliament, distant only half an hour by rail from the city.

There are 583 candidates for the Municipal elections on to-morrow; there are but 80 to elect. It is the weakness of Monsieur to be an administrator—to reform mankind. The contest is at last displaying signs of being vigorous. The more the press calls upon the well-to-do citizens to defer their trips to the country or the sea-side, the greater eagerness does M. Proudhomme display to bolt, to judge by the railway termini. Paris is fatigued with elections of all sorts, yet it is important that her Municipal body should include serious, capable men. Extreme councillors will be only the Commune diluted, and we have had enough of that for a long time. The Corporation of Paris has ever played a grand 'rôle,' and, as certain as may be the future history of the country, the custody of the capital ought to be in safe hands. In a Caucus meeting, held to select candidates, there was a tie between two excellent men; both refused to retire, alleging the other to be in ill health. They agreed to leave the decision to a doctor, who decided against both, and in favor of himself.

The Seine is diminishing in volume, but there is the consolation that the ocean even has displayed a similar attenuation. In any case we are larger than the Spree. The death-rate is greater at Berlin than Paris, a circumstance in which many Frenchmen see the finger of God. The health of the Pope inspires no curiosity, but a newspaper has made a hit in discovering and announcing even without reserve, that the Emperor of Germany cannot live longer than three months. Thiers is good for as many years, and Gambetta, creeping to the front again, is young and hale.

There are many households moving just now; the gigantic packing cases, with no side in particular marked 'up' and 'with care,' indicate the change to be of a permanent and distant nature. Whether it be in consequence of the liberty enjoyed under the Commune, or to the temperature, the fact is universally complained of that the furniture men are as rude as they are reckless in the performance of their work, and the police have had in several cases to be appealed to. Then there are disputes between landlords and tenants. Once a tenant gets his sticks scot free out of a house, the proprietor's claim is gone; the latter becomes liable also for any arrears of taxes. The Commune abolished all arrears of rent, and many availed themselves of the good times to find wigwams elsewhere. Mdlle. Daniel struck the iron while hot; she removed her furniture, protected by the National Guard, although owing 2,000 francs rent. The landlord has just cited her. The judge upbraided her with disloyalty. She only acted like everyone else. It was then endeavored to indict her for fraud, abuse of confidence, &c, but., after discussing for some time, the judge ruled that the Odoe did not anticipate the Commune, and Mademoiselle was acquitted. She ought to 'burn a candle,' as the French say, to the framers of the Code.

The French Courts have hardly opened when they are about to close. The fact is, since Oct. 1869, judges and lawyers have had no vacation. The fall of the empire, the siege, the Commune converted them into soldiers or counsellors to military tribunals. They want rest, but the records will be slightly reduced, by a series of after-sittings where the junior bar can earn distinction and fees, and when November arrives, they can enjoy their vacations till February, leaving the heavy cases to the big guns.

The want of an adequate supply of vehicles is disagreeably experienced just now, when walking any distance is an impossibility, if not a danger. The cab, like the omnibus company, is a monopoly, and neither of them is in a hurry to consider the wants of their patrons. It is stated that no horses can be found for the vehicles—that in consequence of having relieved our stomachs, the noble animal is scarce to aid our legs. But the horse-fair held twice a week is glutted with stock. The truth is, the companies in question, are reaping handsome profits by a business that must come, and defer to them. After waiting at a 'buss office for an hour for the vehicle, one has a chance of obtaing a seat. If you have had an affair with an insolent coachman, there is plenty time to write a complaint while in the humour, in the 'kiosques' especially open for the purpose. What adds to this misery is the simultaneous re-paving of the streets, with the inevitable 'blocks,' and cyclons of dust. The superseding of the macadam and asphalte, for a close-set pavement is justifiable by experience. With the audacity peculiar to his party, Haussmann the magnificent, is a candidate for a town-cillorship; he is very humble just now, is not on speaking terms with the Napoleons. It is well for the Baron the Hotel de Ville with its records have been destroyed—he would have to give a sharp account of how the money of Paris went under the second empire. and his stewardship.

Montmartre is at last happy, having occupied much of the world's attention since that morning of the 18th March when the government captured its cannon, but having no horses ready to carry them away, we tumbled into the Commune. The historic height has reopened its Elysium, where balls and dancing nightly come off. What a change! The theatres continue to be deserted—each visitor has about twenty 'fauteuils' at his disposal; the policeman with a terrible revolver in his belt, seems to enjoy the sleep of the just, as he gently snores, fearing to 'break the peace.' The emptiness of the building almost creates qualms, that an enemy could easily raise the question of your 'sudden disappearance.' The musicians seem to be impaled; the artistes, wax works in a hot show room. The concert Musard, is select, bnt the public indifferent and melancholy. The famous orchestra plays softly, as if fearing to disturb invalids. The Mabille has certainly 'the light of other days,' but life is wanting there. The parterres are as trim and delicately green as ever, the groves as cool, and the sky above as blue. There is none of that joyous tol-de-rol which forced you to smile, or of those frantic quadrilles that compelled you to laugh and nearly close the eyes. The Mabille without a dance, the sanded circle without a foot-print, the guardian or lord Chamberlain with his terrible official neck-lace as severe and stately as a beadle. The orchestra played a waltz, so lugubrious and sad as to remind one of the most funereal of Chopin's marches. Silence reigns over the garden of champagne and Paphian affection. Fille-de-l'air, weary and triste, appears inclined to write 'hic jacet' over the temple once sacred to Chicard. Pomaré, Mogador and Frisette. It will never do for the descendants of Froissart to take, like a neighboring nation, their pleasure sadly.

France has commenced the beating of spears into pruning-hooks. Owing to the stocks of winegand other produce remaining to be transported, and the difficulty of the railways at present to do so, several vessels of the navy have been directed to engage in the coasting trade. As wine maketh glad the heart of man, possibly the people, when they receive their supplies, may become more reconciled with the Germans. Touching the courts-martial at Versailles, next week is set down or their opening. Excepting discussions as to M. Thiers and his special committee being accorded the right of pardoning Communists righteously sentenced to death, and the peerage biography of Rochefort, which looks like the preparation of his hatchment, the Communists are all but forgotten. There is a want of skilled labor being felt in the workshops, its representatives being among the victims of the Commune. The able tradesmen from the provinces will soon emigrate to Paris; it is the only emigration peculiar to the land. The civil acts executed under the Commune, registrations of births. etc. etc., will not be cancelled, but must be gone through in the legal way.

The principal branch of industry in which Paris has sensibly suffered a decline is that of gloves. Some tradespeople are at sea, there being no court to boast of being 'furnisher,' to. A stay-maker claims to be such to the Argentine Republic. In the Lost Property Office the following things are to be found: one of Jules Favre's tears, Trochu's plan, the cauldron to 'fuse' the Legitimists and Orleanists, a gallon of petrole from the Hotel de Ville, an 'inch' of Lorraine, a 'stone' from the fortress of Strasbourg, a part of Olivier's 'light heart,' and several unexecuted pacts with Death.

A dentist is at present circulating hand-bills announcing that he will extract one tooth for 5 f, a dozen for 20 f—if a tooth-ache party be made up.

A widower has remarked, when one loses his wife, it is at first his duty to cry over the loss, then it becomes a habit, and at last a pleasure.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Rain fell heavily yesterday morning at an early hour. The showers began shortly after midnight on Monday and continued for a few hours accompanied by loud thunder and vivid lightning. The thunder was distant, and it is thought the camp must have had the benefit of a heavier fall of the sorely needed rain than experienced in or near the city. A fortnight's rain is, at the least, requisite to place agriculturists and sheepfarmers at ease as to their prospects for the coming season.

Telegrams were received in town yesterday announcing the capture of the famous 'montonero' Guayama by the San Luis Government troops. Three years ago, if we remember rightly, this pest of the Upper Provinces fell into the hands of the authorities, who, instead of shooting him 'sans ceremonie' winked at his escape. It is to be hoped that the 'mistake' will not be repeated now.

Yesterday the walls of the city were placarded with a Municipal edict which it gave us much pleasure to read; it orders that all the houses in Buenos Ayres shall be whitewashed inside and outside, at once, excepting, of course, the walls of rooms that are papered or painted. The yellow fever is upon us again; small pox is carrying off from 5 to 10 victims daily, and it is urgent that householders aid the authorities in preventing the spread of disease by strict and prompt compli with this whitewashing edict.

Letters from Cordoba mention that the Government of that province has some hopes of raising a loan of 100,000 pats. to meet current expenses, from a leading bank in this city.

The latest provincial papers to hand epress fears of disturbances in Santiago del Estero in consequence of the death of Don Manuel Taboada and the mental alienation of his brother Antonio.

We had the pleasure yesterday of receiving a letter from our friend and colleague Hector Varela who, as was to be expected, was received 'en Prince,' in Valparaiso. The Cordillera had a fearful passage round from Montevideo, and but for the skill of her Captain and steadiness of the crew, would in all probability have met with disaster. We publish Mr. Varela's letter in another column.

The Imperial Goverument of Germany is discharging its war debts with the proceeds of the indemnity being paid by France. An instalment of three million pounds sterling of the North German Loan will be paid on the 1st January next, and the balance, 4½ millions, on the 1st February.

It appears that the band of Blancos which appeared the other day at the bar of the Santa Lucia and caused a momentary scare in that city, was composed of deserters and stragglers from the rebels, and had no hostile intentions.

The auction sales of land at San Martin on Sunday went off brilliantly, the whole of the land advertised being sold at prices varrying from $470 to $490 m|c. per vara front by 50 in depth. The property was not very favorably situated, being in the neighbourhood of several brick kilns, and distant about 4½ squares from the station. We notice in our advertising columns that there will be a grand sale in this flourishing suburb on Sunday next, when some of the most extensive and finest building sites will be brought to the hammer by Mr. Ramella. The ground we allude to has 300 yards frontage on the Western Railway, and is adjoining Don Luis Elordi's beautiful quinta. A fine promenade is laid out in front, which will be continued to the station. Dr. Dominguez and Dr. Drago are now erecting splendid country mansions on the adjacent lands. We understand from a good authority that a large church and school are about to be built on the opposite ground by a certain religious society who have received a grant of a fine site from Mr. Ramos. A special train will leave the Parque at 12.20, and the passengert will alight on the princely estate for sale.

There is much enquiry as to the probable reopening of the Biblioteca Nacional in Calle Moreno. The post of librarian vacant on the death of the poet Marmol has not yet been filled up, and pending this the library is closed, to the great disappointment of many who, having necessity to consult the works of reference contained therein and not obtainable elsewhere in the city, entreat that steps be taken by the appointment of a librarian pro. tem. to put this most useful institution at the service of the public as soon as possible.

Rossi, the great Italian tragedian, may be expected to make his 'debut' here towards the end of the month; he takes his benefit at the Solis Theatre in Montevideo to-morrow night in Hamlet.

The premium on gold in the Bolsa at Montevideo has fallen somewhat since the Chambers threw out the Emission Bill; for the 'long account,' however, the price is still 15 and over.

The National Museum at Montevideo has lately added to its collection of curiosities the carcase of a calf with two heads and seven legs.

The revised map and plan of Buenos Ayres ordered some months ago by the Provincial Government is finished, and, we understand, is a very complete work. So it ought to be, as it is said it will cost the Treasury exactly 500,000 paper dollars.

Next Sunday will be a great day in Mercedes. The new hospital, the new town clock, and Mr. Rom's new market will all be submitted to the inauguration process. The Municipality of the town have issued invitations for a 'hop' at the Town-hall, and waggon-loads of flags and fireworks have been sent down by the Western Railway.

The 'moving mania' is spreading rapidly. The Finance Committee of the Provincial Chamber of Deputies have reported unanimously in favor of the removal of the South Market to Barracas. The majority of business men in the city condemn in strong terms the premature legislation that aims at disturbing the great produce centres of the city at a time when business is only just recovering from the trials of last season. The moment is badly chosen for such a change, and over-zealous legislators would better serve the public interests by confining themselves for the present to more urgent measures of reform. Dr. Elizalde's project is certain to evoke the most determined opposition from all who are interested in Plaza business, and they will naturally move heaven and earth to prevent themselves being 'moved.'

The cry is still they come. The latest 'escribano' eccentricity is the fleecing of a too-confiding mother-in-law by one of the 'gremio.' The 'writer' lost his spouse during the plague, and persuaded the old lady that his much lamented wife, her daughter, had appeared to him in a dream, and begged of him to bestow on her parent a small plot of land he holds in the suburbs. Such a request from a 'better half' in another and a better world amounted to a command which the excellent son-in-law could not ignore. so he appointed an early day for his mother-in-law to call on him to 'accept' the deed of transfer. What she signed, however, feminine fashion, without looking at it, was a conveyance of all she possessed to her precious relation, who is now being tried for the swindle before the tribunals.

Mr. Charles Burton, Inspector-General of Telegraphs, left town yesterday for Parana to superintend the repairing of the cable between that city and Santa Fe, which has been out of order for months past.

The Police Department has just issued its version of the mortality caused by the plague. '16,000' dead and missing is the result arrived at by the Police after four months' work. This figure is so obviously under the mark that the report cannot possess much interest for any but the official world.

Political gossips state that General Emilio Mitre's visit to Montevideo is in connection with another attempt to induce the Reds and Whites to cease 'bating each other for the love of God,' cutting each other's throats, and robbing the unfortunate foreign estancieros in the camp. We hear that the General went on no such utopian expedition, but to assist in 'turning off' ex-Minister Torres, who was married some days ago to Señorita Nerea Conde.

An amusing row occurred in a fonda in Calle Defensa a few days ago. It appears that the proprietor, whose 'clientele' is composed of the 'elite' of the 'vasureros,' had a little unpleasantness with them, in consequence of their stretching the 'tic' capacity of his establishment to snapping point. At last the landlord announced that 'no pay no beefsteak' should henceforth be his rule; and the scavengers stood aghast at the prospect of starvation thus suddenly held out to them. One of them, however, requested Boniface not to get excited, but to 'argue the point,' and take it 'easy;' that the extraction of blood from a turnip was known to be a supremely difficult operation, and that as they (the scavengers) had not been paid by the Municipality for three months, it was both a moral and physical impossibility for them to 'stump up.' The landlord was so exasperated at this cool and conclusive logic that he left the room, locked the street door, and audibly registered a vow that he would not let his unwashed customers out till the money or Doomsday arrived. A scrimmage at once ensued, the scavengers breaking their way into the street, having first done the same to their host's cranium.

Extensive preparations are being made at Cordoba for the inauguration of the Exhibition. It is expected that the reception which awaits the President of the Republic will be very cordial. There is much less excitement amongst the Cordoveses about the long expected event than last year, when every house was being prepared as a hotel, the proprietors being charged by the Buenos Ayrean press with the most horse-leech-like intention s towards visitors to the Exhibition.

In view of the increasing number of highway assaults in the outskirts after dark, and daring burglaries almost nightly in the city it would be well for Mr. O'Gorman to call the special attention of Governor Castro and the Legislature as to a suitable remedy. Captain Burton, in his work on these countries says—

"A standing gallows erected just "outside the city would make life and "property much more secure in Bue "nos Ayres, although in all other coun"tries I am an advocate for the aboli"tion of capital punishment."

Telegrams from Villa Maria announce that an Indian embassy of 20 persons reached Mercedes en route for Rosario and Buenos Ayres, to treat about Rio Cuarto affairs, being apparently sent by the Cacique Mariano Rosas. The Envoy Extraordidary is an Indiam woman named Carmen, already well-known for her diplomatic abilities, and mentioned by Colonel Mansilla in his visit to the Ranqueles. This would be an an excellent opportunity for the Government to try and rescue the numberless Christian captives, including Mr. and Mrs. Frazier, the Suarez family and so many others. We may also venture to suggest that Governor Castro should enlist Madame Carmen's sympathy and aid for Mr. Crawford's expedition on the Planchon Railway route.

The Prensa says that a Blanco chief is enlisting men at the Tigre to pass over to Banda Oriental, adding that the bodies of 5 Italians have been found in the islands at a place called Convento, near which a force of 40 supposed Blancos was bivouacking, the latter being accused of having killed the former. Pirates have been seen before now in the Paraná, and possibly the band of '40 Blancos' is composed of amphibious 'matreros', similar to those who infested the lower parts of Entre-Rios 30 years ago till Urquiza cleared them out.

A singular robbery was committed at Messrs. Spark & Co.'s steam soda and mineral water manufactory, in Calle Lorea, between Comercio and San Juan, on Monday last. It appears that while the workmen had left for dinner between 12 and 1 o'clock in the day, some thieves effected an entrance by bursting open the door of the engine-house. Strange to say, though the warehouse and offices belonging to Messrs. Spark are directly opposite the manufactory, on the other side of the way, where both clerks and peones were at work at the time, nothing was heard or seen until the workmen returned from dinner. The thieves were, however, evidently disturbed, as a large quantity of goods, carefully packed by them, ready to be carried off, was left behind; and, beyond a couple of revolvers and an overcoat belonging to the night watchman, which were on a shelf near the door, no further loss was sustained.

The reported case of yellow fever in Calle Artes created great alarm in town yesterday. Nothing was spoken of but the fact that the Destroyer is again hovering over this hapless city, thanks to the authorities wasting the precious months of winter in talking, decreeing, and projecting, without making a single sensible or practical attempt to prepare for a danger which the blindest could see was more than probable. Our evening colleague denies that the case in question was one of yellow fever.

The Coliseum was crowded with skaters on Monday. The attendance of ladies was more numerous than on any previous occasion, and many of them made very creditable attempts on the ice. Mr. Huntley seems to have supplied Buenos Ayres with a 'new sensation,' and a very agreeable one.

ON 'CHANGE.

September 19th, 1871.

Ounces	400
Sovereigns	125
Patacons	25
National Bonds	71½

Bonds ruled firm to-day, but there was very little business done. There were no sales whatever for cash. For the 30th September 5000 at 71½. For October 10th 20,000 at 70⅝. At after hours there were sales for the end of the month at 72½.

Some Argentino Bank shares sold to-day at 8 per cent premium ex-dividend. There was also a sale of 1000 sovereigns at 124. Coliseum shares offered at 45. In City of Buenos Ayres tramway shares 80 sold at 15 premium. In the liquidation 50,000 Bonds were sold for the 10th of October at 70½.

Exchange ruled to-day at 50¼. Very little done up to the present. as merchants are waiting for the French packet. Owing to the wires being cut, there was no telegram received.

Money is rather more in demand, and discount brokers are actively engaged. First class city bills at 7½ per cent per annum. Government still takes money at 10 per cent.

There was a large sale of Municipal Bonds to-day—100,000 at 87.

Central Argentino Railway shares, 20 sold to-day at 90.

The failure of Mr. Oxandaburn, of Gualeguaychu, was reported to-day. Also the death of D. Amadeo Gras, father of Mr. Gras formerly broker on the Bolsa.

There was much said on 'Change to-day about the new system of washing wool, as patented by Major Rickard, and many parties intend to witness the experiments at the Rural Society to-morrow.

It appears on good authority that Congress will not be prolonged this year, and that the session will close before the inauguration of the Exhibition.

The Montevidean market reports for the Neva's mails give the following sales—

Salted hides, 5,000 from Mercedes—7.30 for novillos, and 7.10 for cows.

Tallow, 1,500 pipes and bordalesas, at 2.10 to 2.12½.

Dry hides, 35,000, at 6.80 to 7.10. Stock, 45,700.

Wool, 2,200 arr, from 3 to 3.70. Stock 1,400 arrobas.

Sheepskins, 9,000 doz., 10 to 12½ cts.

The German barque Grietz von Bolhaus, chartered to load in Goya for England, salted hides and tallow at 62s and 5 per cent.

The Nacion has some very pertinent remarks on the ill effects of high customs-duties. Most people fancy that high import duties only effect that branch of trade, but it has been clearly shown in the United States that they also lead to a corresponding decline in productions and exports, since these latter are in most cases merely an exchange for imports. Government financiers merely look to an increase of revenue by higher duties, without seeing that these ultimately act as a check on trade, and in return for a momentary gain cause a lasting injury both to the country and the revenue. The import duties in Buenos Ayres are already too high, and tend to dry up the economic resources of the country, by producing 1st diminution in the consumption, 2nd a diminution in imports, 3rd a diminution in exports, 4th a diminution in the public revenue. Our motto should do "lower duties and greater facilities for trade."

Some of the morning papers complain that the Provincial Bank is not sufficiently complaisant towards the National Government, obliging the Minister of Finance to look elsewhere for money at a higher rate. The Prensa shews with much reason that the Bank is perfectly justified in viewing with great caution any large operations with the National Government. The new law for moving the capital to Villa Maria indicates the possibility that before long the National Government will make its Hegira from Buenos Ayres, and as the Federal Courts have moreover decided that the National Government cannot be sued without special permission of Congress it would be both difficult and unpleasant for the Board of Directors to go up there to look for money lent, in case the Prime-Minister should adopt any peculiar measures towards the Bank, as he has done recently with the Central Argentine Railway. Besides the Government favors the idea of a National Bank which must seriously interfere with the Provincial, and, however magnanimously the Directors might be inclined to overlook such inimical measures it would hardly be prudent to cripple the resources of the Bank by advancing large amounts to the Government, and thus prejudicing the commercial interests of Buenos Ayres.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA AND Co.
101--Cangallo--103
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current we now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in he immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays an holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P. P. MAUA & Co.;

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM.

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at intercst any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. p. a) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds Twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishe can open an account current, according to the rules estabished by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

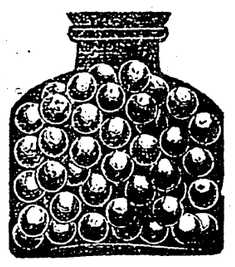
BRISTOL'S SUGAR COATED VEGETABLE PILLS.

These Pills have justly acquired a widely extended reputation for their wonderful cures of severe cases of sickness—cases in which all other Medicines had failed, and which had been given up by Physicians as beyond help—such as confirmed and long-standing Liver Complaints, obstinate cases of Piles, Dropsy, &c. But while admitting their wonderful curative powers in difficult cases, we wish to call attention to their great value in the every-day diseases of life, such as Costiveness, for which they are a perfect specific; Headache relieved and cured by one dose; Indigestion always removed by them, and the stomach so toned and strengthened as to prevent a return. Bad Breath cannot exist when the stomach is cleansed by

BRISTOL'S SUGAR-COATED PILLS.



Purely Vegtable.

For Loss of Appetite they are the only sure remedy, as they never fail in carrying off the depraved bilious secretions that float in the stomach and destroy the healthy, natural craving for food. Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Flatuleney, and all Derangements of the Digestive and excretory Organs, are promptly relieved and cured by them. The public should always bear in mind that Bristol's are the only Pills made of

Podophyllin and Leptandrin,

The only vegetable substances yet discovered that are really

Antibilious,

To the presence of which invaluable resinolds the extraordinary success of Bristol's Pills may in a great measure be ascribed. It is necessary, however, that the sick should always remember that in all diseases that have their origin in the blood.

BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA,

That best of blood purifiers, should be used with the Pills, the two Medicines being prepared expressly to act in harmony together. When this is done faithfully, we have no hesitation in saying that great relief, and, in most cases, a cure, can be guaranteed when the patient is not already beyond human help.

For general directions and table of doses, see the wrapper around each phial of Pills; but as different constitutions requirre different doses to produce the same effect, it is better that each person ascertain, by trial, the dose that suits their system, and take that dose, instead of following any general rule.
